Subject: Newborn Eligibility Record

The State has recently begun to identify newborns and is creating separate eligibility records for them shortly after delivery. These newborns may reflect an active status in the State's Automated Eligibility Verification System (AEVS); however, they may not reflect active eligibility on the IEHP online eligibility verification system.

Although these newborns have their own eligibility record, they continue to be covered under the mother for a maximum of 60 days after delivery. Medical claims for these newborns must continue to be submitted under the mother's eligibility using their mother's information, including IEHP Member ID number as the insured party.

If you have any questions, please contact the IEHP Provider Relations Team at (909) 890-2054.
