The eleventh COVID-19 Conversations webinar will discuss the variety of considerations being weighed before reopening colleges and universities in fall 2020, including the role of testing and contact tracing, responding to outbreaks, if sports can safely resume, and other strategies to prevent the spread of COVID-19 while allowing education to continue.

The webinar will begin with an introduction from the session's moderator, Crystal Watson, Senior Scholar at the Johns Hopkins Center for Health Security, and then feature a conversation with a panel of experts, including:

- Robert Robbins - President, University of Arizona
- Aminta Breaux - President, Bowie State University
- Julio Frenk - President, University of Miami
- Eloy Ortiz Oakley - Chancellor, California Community Colleges

The panel discussion will be followed by a Q&A session with the webinar audience.

This webinar has also been approved for 1.5 continuing education credits for CPH, CME, CNE or CHES. Several days after attending the webinar, those who watched the entire activity will receive an email with info on how to complete the online evaluation and then claim their credits.
